

DUNK MEMORIAL FUND NEARS CLOSE

Today Last for Children to Show Regard for Dead Elephant Friend.

Today is the last day to contribute to the fund for a memorial for Old Dunk. A week ago this morning he was shot after a painful accident had made it the mercurial thing to put him out of misery.

On the day that he died The Times addressed a letter to the boy and girl friends of the elephant suggesting that they contribute 5 cents each toward a suitable memorial for the most popular animal that had ever been kept in the Zoo.

Letters have poured into The Times daily ever since. Yesterday announcement was made that today would be the last day on which to send letters and subscriptions. So if you want to pay your mite toward the memorial be sure to send it today, for tonight the fund closes.

Some of the letters received today follow:

To the Editor of The Times:
Inclosed you will find 10 cents as my contribution to the Dunk memorial fund. I'm so sorry he is dead. Ever since I was a tiny child, my grandpa has taken me to the Zoo, and the first place we ever went was to see Dunk's house. I loved to feed him peanuts, and the Zoo won't be the same now that he is gone.
MARY FLORENCE HURLEY.

To the Editor of The Times:
I am so sorry Dunk is dead. I will miss him when I go to the Zoo. Here is my 5 cents for his tablet. Won't you please help us to get a new Dunk? I would work hard to make money to pay my part.
CATHERINE FOSTER SELBY.

To the Editor of The Times:
We are very sorry our good old friend Dunk is dead. We miss him when we go to the Zoo. We send 10 cents to help with his memorial.
LOIS YVONNE JOHANNES,
DANA BERRY JOHANNES, Jr.

To the Editor of The Times:
Please send inclosed a nickel for the Dunk memorial.
EX-KID.

To the Editor of The Times:
Dunk was my favorite animal at the Zoo, and I am glad to send 5 cents to add to the fund to get his memorial. I am six years old.
JACK CAPERS.

To the Editor of The Times:
My brother and I always have been fond of Dunk, so we are sending 10 cents for his memorial. My brother's name is Edgar, and he is eight years old. My name is Olive, and I am eleven years old. I hope Dunk will get enough money for his memorial.
OLIVE CHACE.

To the Editor of The Times:
As an old friend of Dunk's, I am inclosing 20 cents for a monument to the best elephant in the world.
JACK SMITH.

To the Editor of The Times:
Daddy told me Dunk had died and you wanted 5 cents to buy him a tombstone, so here it is. Dunk was such a good elephant that I know he has gone to heaven.
JUNE ISHERWOOD.

PEACE LOBBYING CEASES

Pacifists Now Fighting to Prevent Sending of Troops Abroad.

Although headquarters of the Emergency Peace Federation, at 1221 Pennsylvania avenue, probably will be kept open the remainder of the week for the benefit of the few remaining pacifists in the city, practically all active lobbying was abandoned today, following the action of the House of Representatives on the war resolution.

Anti-pacifists who gathered here in small numbers early in the week for a pro-war lobby, also have left the city, and the battle for peace is virtually ended.

Pacifists of the Emergency Peace Federation in New York, however, are doing all in their power to influence Congress against sending troops abroad, and against conscription. They also have begun a propaganda to influence Congress and the President to incite the German people to revolution, and thus to end the European war "without the participation of the United States in active hostilities."

The appeal was sent out last night from headquarters of the federation, in New York, and addressed to the President and to each member of Congress.

CAVALRY'S LAST DRILL

Three Troops of Second Regiment
Give Exhibition at Fort Myer.

The final exhibition drill of the season by the cavalry troops stationed at Fort Myer, was held this afternoon, when troops B, C, and D, of the Second Regiment rode into the tankard hall at the fort and "showed off" for the last time.

The members of the three troops, waiting hourly for a call which may mean their entrainment to some locality far from Washington, were anxious to do their best at the final appearance, and each well executed maneuver and each daring "stunt" was greeted with cheers from the galleries.

Rheumatism an Insidious Disease; Begins with Insignificant Pains

Real Torture Bound to Follow If the First Warnings Are Not Heeded.

Anyone afflicted with the pangs of Rheumatism will tell you that the first pains were hardly noticeable. Slight at first, in fact too insignificant to be heeded, pains increasing very gradually, the disease had them firmly in its grasp before they realized that they were its victim.

Those who have been trying liniments and other external applications will find that they have not reached the cause of the trouble, and that their Rheumatism

RAILROADS TO USE ALL RESOURCES

Transportation Experts Will Enter War Department to Direct Mobilization.

The United States will wage war with the unstinted backing of the greatest transportation system in world history.

The American Railway Association—spokesman body for 97 per cent of the country's 250,000 miles of rail lines—has offered the War Department its resources down to the last flatcar, if necessary, to speed the assembling of the men-at-arms, present and prospective, it was announced today.

Furthermore, all plans for the most thoroughgoing, active co-operation between railroad officials and the department await but the word of the department.

With this word, transportation experts on the roads' payrolls will enter the War Department, the various army departmental headquarters and mobilization centers, and virtually take over the army's mobilization problems. A perfect T-joint co-ordination of action, officials declare, will ensue.

All traffic—without exception—will be sidetracked for Government troop and supply trains. Flatcars, when necessary, will "go through" like express.

To mobilize the proposed first-year army of 1,000,000 men, officials estimate, will require at least 125,000 cars and 6,000 locomotives, presupposing that the troops would move in large mass units. With straggling batches, however, being mobilized to diverse points—as a general mobilization would mean—it will tax the roads' equipment and ingenuity to the utmost.

The estimate drawn by the War Department and the railroads of the necessary equipment for moving a complete infantry division of 23,000 men and officers, 7,000 animals, and

Dandruff Makes Hair Fall Out

25 cent bottle of "Danderine"
keeps hair thick, strong, beautiful.

Girls! Try this! Doubles beauty of your hair in few moments.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle, and straggly. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy, and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable luster, softness, and luxuriance.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that all you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.—Adv.

800 vehicles, includes 487 coaches, 48 Pullmans, 76 baggage cars, 245 box cars, 303 stock cars, 301 flat cars—a total of 1,568 cars stretched out over a trackage of 88,535 feet.

TELLS OF AIR SERVICE.

"One pilot in an aeroplane is worth 2,000 soldiers," said Flight Lieut. G. L. Faulkner, of the British royal flying corps, in an address before 300 members of the Patent Office yesterday afternoon. Lieutenant Faulkner, who has spent two years on the western front as an aviator, was wounded and invalided out.

OFFERS BATTALION

Fred W. Wren, of Connecticut, Will Raise Marine Force.

Fred W. Wren, a millionaire brewer of Bridgeport, Conn., called on Capt. Thomas P. Magruder, at the Navy Department, yesterday, and offered the services during the war of three companies of marines, as a part of the Naval Reserve, which he is raising in the towns along Long Island Sound.

Mr. Wren has seen extended service in the Marine Corps, and his record is highly favorable. He pointed out to Captain Magruder that he and his Connecticut neighbors are keen for active duty, as Connecticut would certainly be one of the first objects of attack by a foreign power, because of the immense munitions plants and the submarine shipyards at Bridgeport, New Haven, and New London.

Mr. Wren was cordially thanked for his offer, and will proceed with recruiting his battalion at once.

DRILLS REPLACE ATHLETICS.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., April 6.—All intercollegiate athletics at the University of Michigan will be abandoned because of existing war conditions. Over 1,400 students are drilling night and day.

GRADUATION PUT AHEAD

Business High Student Favored So
He Can Join Navy.

In order to permit immediate enlistment in the United States navy, Superintendent of Schools Thurston has authorized Allan Davis, principal of Business High School, to graduate Albert P. Freer, a student in the two-year business course, at this time, instead of waiting for his class in June. When young Freer, who is not yet eighteen, announced his intention of enlisting in the navy if his school work would permit of his early graduation, school officials decided his marks would warrant the action.

As soon as he heard of the decision, Freer went to the recruiting station here, and he is now an apprentice seaman in the navy.

Because of his high school training, he was advanced one number immediately. He soon will leave for Newport, where he will be assigned to a training ship.
